Cassiopeia is house suitable for a family of 4-5 people. The building was designed as a storey house, covered with a hipped roof with the garage partly embedded in the main body of house. A simple form of home in the form of a rectangular prism was varied protruding bay windows and roofs, as well as arcades, balconies and loggia. House undoubtedly will appeal to customers who take delight in modern architectural forms, but with a degree of conservatism. The shape of Cassiopeia house allows also place the house plan on a narrow plot. The interior of the ground floor are: living area consisting of a living room with dining area, lounge area, partly open kitchen and utility room and garage. On the first floor are: parent's apartment with bathroom, dressing room and balcony, two children's bedrooms with a bathroom. Additionally there is a room that can be used as an office to work, or possibly a guest bedroom or large dressing room. Cassiopeia house plan has also a mirror version.
